

Distinguished Teaching Award Nomination

The College Reading and Learning Association awards one Distinguished Teaching Award annually to a member of the Association who exemplifies teaching and learning as a lifelong journey. A recipient of this high honor provides students with a clear model of enthusiastic, knowledgeable, and compassionate teaching. CRLA presents this award to honor achievement, to provide models of exemplary teaching for those new to the profession and to encourage all CRLA members to continue their professional development. Note: One award is given to an individual per year.

Nomination deadline is August 1. Electronic submission required.
